RIBBON CUTTING CEREMONY 5:30 p.m.

Oklahaven began caring for children in need on August 8, 1962, when six volunteer chiropractors established the Center. Since then, Oklahaven has helped many children reach their full health potential through natural, drug-free health care. In 1979, Dr. Bobby Doscher became the Center's Chief Executive Officer. During her tenure, the clinic has received national and international recognition for its work with severely handicapped children.

Over the years, the demand for Oklahaven's services increased to the point where additional space in a more functional clinic became urgent.

Last fall, the perfect facility was found and the remodeling process began earlier this year. Thanks to those who donated their time, talents, materials, money and equipment. The new clinic is ready to provide care for more children than ever.

A special thanks to all the volunteers:

Dr. Bill Doscher who through all the years has voluntarily given of his time and talents to be responsible for the remodeling of the new clinic. To all the Board Members, both past and present, who have served and have been so supportive of the cause . . . especially Marie Childers who for the past two and a half years has worked to see the goal become a reality. Dick Gewin, Merkel X-Ray who has served for the past ten years and been solely responsible for the X-Ray department. Richard Smith, C&F Distributing for the flooring of the new facility. Tempie Nichols, the Earth Health Food Stores for providing a meeting place. Lori Griffin, CPA for financial reports, J.R. Woods for storage, and Arthur L. Powell for long-range planning Retired Senior Volunteer Program. Bob Lake Grove for legal council.

To our new very special friend Jeff Gibbens of General Design Sign Company, Inc. who donated our new sign and organized gifts from Richard Flaherty Leander Adjusting tables, Dr. Wess A. Culwell, a Kyro Adjusting table, Fred Van Liew, Trinisol-reverse osmosis water system, Bruce Goldsmith, Visual Odyssey, Inc. materials, and Parker Chiropractic Resource Foundation educational materials.

This watercolor of the new facility was donated by renowned Oklahoma City artist Kay Orr. She is one of the best in the Southwest and a long-time friend, donating many works of art to support this important work.

If you want a special gift for yourself or a loved one, a watercolor portrait of your home (or a previous home) can be painted. This one-of-a-kind artist's rendition is tax deductible and a donation to the 'new building' fund. What a marvelous gift for those hard to buy for people on your list. Anyone would cherish this unique and thoughtful gift.

There are portrait sizes to fit all pocketbooks. Donations of $50, $100 or $250 are welcome depending on the size of portrait you would like. In order to be ready for Christmas, portraits must be ordered by Dec. 1. For homes outside the OKC metro area, a photograph will be required.

MIRACLES CAN HAPPEN

When Daymon first came to Oklahaven Children's Chiropractic Center, he was carried into the clinic in an infant car seat. At nine years of age, his small, rigid body resembled that of a two year old. Today—six months after his first chiropractic treatment—the changes in Daymon are nothing short of a miracle.

The results have been remarkable.

Oklahaven has proven to us that miracles can happen," said Daymon's mother.

According to his mother, Daymon was born premature and was diagnosed with hydrocephalus and cerebral palsy. Doctors predicted that he would not live to reach his second birthday, and even though Daymon has beaten the odds, it hasn't been easy.

"Since the beginning, Daymon has required constant care. As he began to grow, he did not develop the skills that most children do. He could not sit up or feed himself. When Daymon's condition began to deteriorate last December, I turned to Oklahaven for help. Since then, the improvements in Daymon are more than I ever thought possible," she said.

The new facility will also enable the Center to conduct research, provide greater community education regarding the importance of natural health care, establish a parent support group, and offer chiropractors the opportunity to gain specialized chiropractic skills, necessary for the successful treatment of children.

His mother explained that under the care of Oklahaven's CEO, Dr. Bobby Doscher, Daymon's head control greatly improved, he began using his hands more, started sitting up for the first time and, with assistance, is even trying to walk.

According to Doscher, Daymon is a perfect example of the success the Center has had treating children considered hopeless by traditional practitioners.

"Through chiropractic care, Daymon has made tremendous progress. His body is less rigid, his hands and feet are no longer tightly clinched, and his body is assuming more natural positions, which explains why he has outgrown his clothes and shoes by several sizes," Doscher said.

The mother added, "As Daymon's body became more functional, he was able to stop wearing the braces he once wore day and night. With the progress he has made in the last six months, I am anxious to see what six more months of treatments will do for Daymon."

Unfortunately, through circumstances outside the clinic's control, Daymon's treatments have been interrupted. Perhaps your contributions will make it possible for the family to continue this healing process for Daymon, who has been making truly remarkable progress.
